We're going round and round again
The battle lines are drawn Backed into our corners
Where this contest can't be won
 We are waiting for the warning bell to ring
 Like two fighters who are losing everything

Maybe you were right
I been losing heart
And up all night
Reaching out to the stars
Touching nothing but air
 I wish that we could find our way
 You know that we have come so far
 If we could only dream
 Together we can dream that far

We lost the spark that brought us love, so many days gone by the fire of our passion dying right before our eyes

 We are holding on with nothing left to show
 We can't get it back but still won't let it go

Can we climb to the heights?
With so much wrong
And too little right
I don't want to fight
To get along
 I wish that we could find our way
 You know that we have come so far
 If we could only dream

Together we can dream

If we could only dream that far Instead of fighting who we are we'd ignite the fire in our hearts again

 We are waiting for the warning bell to ring
 Like two fighters who are losing everything

We can climb to the heights Take what's wrong and make it right cause I don't want to fight
To get along

 I know that we can find our way

 You know that we have come so far
 If we could only dream
 Together we can dream that far
 Yeah together we can dream that far

Dream that far
Dream that far
Dream that far
